EDITORS DESK

I am overjoyed to present the new issue of News Letter of the Department of Psychology one of the premier departments of Patna University.

It is an endeavoring moment for me and my colleagues to present our news bulletin about our old history of department. Hence, it is important to look at the glorious journey of the department, means past present and future of the department. The content in this volume has been arranged accordingly.

The NAAC PEER Team assessed Patna University and accredited B+ to our University. We are constantly gearing up to bring an increment in our grades by our continuous determinate efforts.

Publication of this news Bulletin has been made possible because of our hard-working faculty members of the department, the students of Semester I and Semester III. I am sure that publication of this News Bulletin will be a continued process and would serve as a highlighter of the activities of the department.
